A Word About the JDTP

- The Junior Doctor Training Program (JDTP) provides internships of last resort for full-fee paying international students with strong ties to Australia and who are willing to serve rural and remote communities.
- It was previously known as the CMI (Commonwealth Medical Internship) Program, which was consolidated into the broader JDTP in May this year.
- Most of the JDTP internships positions will be in a rural and private hospital setting.
- The JDTP is funded for 100 positions in 2019 and the number will increase to 115 from 2020.
